Epic Story of North Is Told by Survivors

ONE DUCK AND FOUR SQUIRRELS KEPT MEN ALIVE THREE WEEKS

Terrible sufferings of Burke Party in Northern Wilderness Revealed as Story Is Gaped Out by Two Survivors—Emaciated Men Stood Guard Over Funeral Cairn of Their Leader

WHITE HORSE, Dec. 11.—Four squirrels and one duck were all the food that E. J. A. "Paddy" Burke, "Three-Fingered" Bob Marten and Emil Kading had in twenty-three days. It was all that they could garner in the bleak wilderness north of the Liard after their plane had come down on October 11. Fighting their way towards Wolf Lake, weakened by lack of nourishment, frost-bitten and exhausted, the rugged frames of Marten and Kading stood the strain better than that of the young airman. Slower and slower was their progress—then came the day when Paddy Burke could go no farther.

Forty miles they had battled their way towards Wolf Lake, where they hoped rescuers could find them from the air. They came to a halt. Gaunt from starvation they could pit their strength no longer against the rigors of subarctic winter and the white, hard cruelty of the wilderness.

SAW LEADER FADE
Eagerly they sought signs of wild life, and desperately they scanned the skies for a sign of relief. The days dragged on—the long, chill nights, and the brief hours of daylight, wherein they could expect rescue—came and went with painful monotony. And Burke, their leader, "Paddy" Burke the laughing, brave, genial "Paddy Burke" faded before the eyes of the others. Weaker and weaker, he became. Only the thought of his wife and little ones and the vanishing hope of rescue maintained him.

Then came the day when Emil Kading brought down the caribou. Here was food; here was hope renewed—the chance of prolonging life. Eagerly they prepared the flesh of the animal. Burke was too far gone to eat, so they boiled some over a camp fire, and forced the broth between his teeth.

It was too late. Poor Paddy Burke could not respond, and a few days later his spirit passed on. They built him a cairn of logs and brushwood. Weak and gaunt, hungry Marten and Kading worked with their remaining strength to protect the remains of their comrade.

INDIAN ROUND TABLE PLANS ARE ATTACKED

Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill Opposes Immediate Self-Government Proposal

SENATE IS FORESEEN IN DOMINION STATUS

LONDON, Dec. 11 (CP).—Outspoken declaration of Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill against immediate self-government for India this afternoon, set the Indian Round Table Conference pot boiling. Indian delegates tonight were asking themselves whether the former Chancellor of the Exchequer was speaking only for himself, or whether he reflected the views of the Conservative Party of the British delegation at the Indian Conference. It was generally believed that he was expressing his own personal views.

WOULD REST WITH GOVT

The Conservative statesman said that the framing of any act looking to a new form of government in India would rest entirely with the British Government at the time that necessity arose. It seemed highly probable, he said, that a new House of Commons, "far more representative of the strong patriotic elements of our country than is the present House," would have come into existence before such an act could be introduced.

CANADA MIGHT BE IN DAIRY EXPORT FIELD

Prediction Made by F. E. M. Robinson, President of National Council

AUSTRALIAN BUTTER SITUATION REVIEWED

OTTAWA, Dec. 11 (CP).—Testing to continued improvement in dairying in Canada, representatives of the National Dairy Council and of Western produce, conferred today with Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, on the subject of Australian butter. Views which they expressed to the minister in connection with the discussions to be held here in the next few days between Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and Hon. Parker Macleay, Minister of Markets and Transport in the Australian Government, were not disclosed. Members of the delegation stated, however, that they believed the interests of the Canadian producer would be well protected.

If the industry continued to advance at its present rate, declared F. E. M. Robinson, president of the National Dairy Council, it was probable that Canada would be in the export market within two years. Mr. Robinson did not contemplate this prospect with enthusiasm, however, as he drew attention to the fact that in the world market butter is now selling in the neighborhood of 19 cents a pound.

While the view of the Government on the matter of Australian importations has not been indicated, there are indications that a method will be sought to prevent the Australian product becoming too severe a competitor without finding it necessary to impose dumping duties. The Australian Government has already undertaken to see that butter from the Antipodes does not flood the Canadian market. At the same time it is generally understood that the imposition of a dumping duty might create ill-feeling against Canadian products in Australia.

CANTON, China, Dec. 12 (AP).—Local headquarters of a Spanish Catholic mission operating in Southern Hubei Province today was informed Reds captured and strangled to death a Chinese priest near Puchi, fifty miles south of this city.

POLICEMAN IS SLAIN BY THUG IN STOLEN CAR

Motorcycle Officer Killed When Chasing Stolen Auto at London

WAS ORDERING PAIR TO HALT WHEN SHOT

TORONTO, Dec. 11.—Pursuing a stolen car at London, Ont., tonight, Motorcycle Officer Roy McQuillen, of Toronto, was shot and killed by the occupants, who abandoned the car and fled into the bush in the northwestern outskirts of the city. The two occupants of the car are described as a tall man and a short one. McQuillen and another motorcycle officer were on patrol in York Township when they spotted the stolen automobile. They gave chase and when close enough, ordered the fugitive to stop. The driver of the car responded by stepping on the gas.

About a mile down the road the fugitives stopped and two occupants stepped out. The two officers stepped toward them in the belief that the men were ready to surrender. But as McQuillen, who was in the lead, approached, one of the thugs opened fire, and the policeman fell to the ground mortally wounded. The two men bolted down a side path and into bushes flanking the Humber River. McQuillen's companion gave chase, but realizing the odds against him, returned to summon reinforcements.

C.P.R. to Place Large Orders For Equipment

MONTREAL, Dec. 11 (CP).—Equipment orders will be placed by the Canadian Pacific Railway within the near future, it was indicated today in a prospectus issued in connection with the issue of $14,250,000 4½ per cent equipment bonds sold to a Canadian-American group of bankers. Under the trust deed it is provided that the company will purchase new standard equipment costing 20 per cent more than the face value of the issue, roughly $17,000,000.

Inquiries are now out for tenders on new equipment. As far as can be learned, it is not the intention of contracting for the full $17,000,000 of new standard equipment. Initial orders are likely to be well under that figure, though the full amount will be spent during the next twelve months.

TRAIL BLAZING AUTO WELCOMED AS FIRST IN ONTARIO CENTRE

NAKINA, Ont., Dec. 11.—This town dressed up in gala attire today to welcome the first motor car ever to arrive here under its own power. Healy F. Needham, the driver, was met at the outskirts of the town by civic officials, and gave an address of welcome. The car was taken to the railway roundhouse, the town not being furnished with a garage.

Tonight a banquet was tendered to Needham, who related his experience on his attempt to blaze the first motor trail across Canada. He expects to reach Winnipeg early in the new year.

FOG TIES UP NAVIGATION IN CHANNEL

Transportation of Every Sort Endangered in All Parts of England

TRAINS OVERDUE AND AIR SERVICES HALTED

Belgian Ship in Collision in Dover Harbor—Floods in Wales

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP).—Southern England and the Channel emerged this afternoon from the fog which has tied up land and shipping traffic for two days, but there was not much improvement, for rain poured out of the clouded skies and there was a gale of considerable force.

In the Swansea area, in Wales, many districts were badly flooded. Horse racing at Worcester was impossible, and the gale drove a sleet storm up and down the Channel.

VESSEL DAMAGED

Navigation on the Channel was almost impossible. Notwithstanding the greatest care, the captain of the Belgian Channel steamer, Prince Leopold, was unable to avoid colliding with a breakwater, and he entered Dover Harbor, and damaged his ship. But for his slow steaming the accident probably would have been fatal.

The Aquitania was five hours late entering Southampton, and had to anchor off Calshot after entering the Solent. The port of Hull was tied up as well as being fog-ridden, and a fleet of trawlers lay outside, not daring to come up the Channel.

TRAFFIC IS DANGEROUS

Trains in Eastern England panted into stations hour over hour. Air services stopped and highway traffic became very dangerous, partly because of the fog, and partly because of the slippery surfaces of the roads. A motor bus collided with a lorry near Leicester and passengers were hurled through the windows and cut badly. Another motor bus at Chatham, in Lancashire, skidded and crashed against a shop window, fifty passengers escaping serious injury. Other minor automobile accidents were reported from all over Southern and Eastern England.

WAR BETWEEN TWO PARTIES STILL WAGING

Senator Steeg Is Endeavoring to Form New Ministry in France

PARIS, Dec. 11 (AP).—France went to bed again tonight without a Government, and the prospects that one would be ready for tomorrow appeared more remote than they have since the Radicals resigned one week ago today.

Senator Theodore Steeg, former Resident-General of Morocco, was charged by President Doumergue today to form a Cabinet, but tonight parliamentarians generally conceded him little chance of success.

His consultations with political leaders brought out the fact that not only would he lack the support of the group of the Extreme Right, headed by Louis Marin, but that the moderate parties of the Right, under the leadership of former Minister of War Andre Maginot, would refuse their assistance. Mr. Maginot, offered the war portfolio, declined to accept.

TO WAIT FEW DAYS

President Doumergue was apparently resolved to allow the warring parties of the Right and Left to fight it out a few days longer. He followed strictly the parliamentary usage in summoning a member of the Senate majority that overthrew the Tardieu Government, before taking the step which a great many consider the sole solution outside the dissolution of Parliament, namely, that of offering the premiership to Raymond Poincare without portfolio.

TORONTO, Dec. 11 (CP).—William McKensie, formerly of Vancouver and now living in Toronto, was sentenced to six years and twenty lashes when he pleaded guilty to a number of holdups throughout the city. He previously received a suspended sentence for robbery in British Columbia.

Mayor Voices His Keen Appreciation Of Voters' Verdict

Second Endorsement of Policy Shows Desire of Citizens for Steady Programme of Progress—Appeals for Aid to Unemployed

FOLLOWING his election, Mayor Anscomb addressed a large gathering of citizens and ratepayers from the balcony of The Daily Colonist Building on Broad Street, and said:

"I find words quite inadequate to express my appreciation of the splendid victory accorded me today, a repetition of that recorded exactly two years ago. I do not, in any sense, consider it a personal victory. It is the result of the splendid support accorded me by the vast majority of the citizens who have expressed in no uncertain terms the desire for a steady policy of progress and talking that suggests that all is not well with this, that, and the other."

CITY DEVELOPMENT

"A second endorsement of my policy, I believe, will bring my colleagues on the council, both new and old, to think with me on many matters of general policy for the development of the city. This is apparent from your endorsement of the money by-laws placed before you, which shows that the masses of the people do not believe that we should stand still as though there was no life left in us. And let me say that, no matter what happens, I do not propose to let any policy of development run away with our better judgment. All matters must be carefully considered in the light of the city's future requirements."

"I believe I satisfied the electors in my analysis of my opponent's Continued on Page 3, Column 3

R. B. Bennett To Be Back Home Today

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Dec. 11 (CP).—Returning from two and a half months abroad in the interests of Empire unity, Canada's Prime Minister will arrive on home soil tomorrow. When the liner Duchess of Atholl docks at West Saint John on Friday afternoon, her most distinguished passenger will be Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett.

According to wireless messages received today, the vessel is expected to reach her pier at 3:30 in the afternoon, Atlantic standard time, bearing the Prime Minister, his sister, Miss Mildred Bennett; Hon. Maurice Dupre, Solicitor-General, and Mrs. Dupre.

Almost immediately on arriving, Premier Bennett and his party will board a private car attached to the special boat train, and by 6 o'clock will be on the way to Ottawa.

John Dean Defeated by Over 2,000 Votes in Civic Election

MRS. NORTH CHOSEN AS POLICE COMMISSIONER

R. T. Williams and T. W. Hawkins New Members of Council

Carried into office on the crest of a wave of popular voting backed by a policy of sound development, Herbert Anscomb, twice Mayor of Victoria, triumphed over his only opponent, John Dean, apostle of a Greater Victoria water scheme, in yesterday's municipal elections by a majority of 2,149 out of a total vote of 5,390.

The final unofficial figures were Mayor Anscomb 4,908, John Dean 1,859.

Mayor Anscomb's re-election takes with it three members of his 1930 council, Aldermen W. T. Strath, James Adam and H. O. Litchfield, only one failing to be returned, Alderman William Gullin. The two new members of the board are T. W. Hawkins and Robert T. Williams.

MRS. NORTH ELECTED

One of the highlights of the election and one unique in the annals of municipal voting in Victoria, which apparently had an appeal to the electors, was the success of Mrs. Dorothy North, who defeated her two opponents, W. E. Staniland, the sitting commissioner, and R. E. Heath, a newcomer in the arena, for the lone seat on the city's Board of Police Commissioners by a scant majority.

Mrs. North contested the election in so-called proxy for her husband, Joseph North, not qualified, admitting that, if elected, she would be governed by the wishes of her husband in all matters of policy while serving on the commission.

When the result of the mayoralty voting was assured, citizens turned their attention to the contest being waged on the score boards by Mrs. North and Commissioner Staniland. In the early returns it was given-and taken with Mr. Staniland once Continued on Page 2, Column 5

MARTIAL LAW CREATED OVER WHOLE ISLAND

President Suspends Constitutional Guarantees Throughout Cuba

NEW DISORDERS IN STREETS OF HAVANA

HAVANA, Dec. 11 (AP).—Amid new disorders by students and with rumors buzzing throughout the city that he soon would resign, President Machado today suspended constitutional guarantees throughout the whole of Cuba.

This is tantamount to martial law and is similar to the suspension decreed in Havana and environs which ended last month. Both were authorized by Congress after much debate, but whereas the first decree was confined to the capital, and for only twenty days, the suspension invoked today will run for sixty days over the entire island.

FIRING IN STREETS

Student activities not only continued but increased, meanwhile, and the sound of firing was heard in the streets as police attempted to break up demonstrations. Numbers of business and professional men, graduates of the National University, assured their support to the rioting undergraduates.

The President's action followed a secret meeting of the cabinet, at which American Ambassador Harry F. Guggenheim was reported to be present; and it was known that important developments were expected. Havana, at the same time, was swimming in a flood of rumors.

CREW OF DISABLED SCHOONER RESCUED

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP).—A message to Lloyd's said that the Swedish steamer Sasu had rescued the crew of the schooner Amy G. McKean, bound from Swansea, for Halifax, as the latter vessel was foundering in the Atlantic, 800 miles from Queenstown.

Left Wing Farmers Adopt Policy for New Unity League

Demands Made for Many Radical Changes—Resolutions Are Passed Supporting Soviet Principles—Plan to Send Delegation to Russia

SASKATOON, Dec. 11 (CP).—Following the final session of a two-day conference, Left Wing farmers stated that delegates had adopted a programme of action as a basis upon which they would endeavor to build a new national farm body known as the Farmers' Unity League of Canada.

According to the statement, demands included in the programme were as follows: No evictions for nonpayment of mortgage indebtedness, rent or arrears of taxes, organized resistance against foreclosures and evictions, resistance to tax, sheriff and foreclosure sales, cancellation of all debts and arrears of taxes, complete control of grading of all farm products by the farmers, a guaranteed Government income to all farmers of not less than $1,000 per year to be raised out of profits of banks, mortgage firms, manufacturers, etc., free medicine, hospital and medical attention for poor farmers, financing of all educational institutions by the state, social insurance for sickness, old age and other incapacitation.

OFFICERS ELECTED
Officers of the organization will consist of an executive of five, one appointed from each of the four conferences held and a fifth to be appointed by the other four. Those already elected are: J. Kapusta, Arborg, Manitoba, elected to the Winnipeg meeting; Fred Shumman, Crane Valley, elected at the Regina meeting; Walter Wiggins, Sturgis, elected at the Saskatoon meeting. The representative from the Edmonton conference will be chosen on Saturday, December 13.

Headquarters of the Farmers' Unity League of Canada will be in League members may retain membership in their farm organizations and efforts to secure support for league policy will be made both inside and outside the existing organization.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED
A resolution of greeting to the All-China Congress of Soviets, which convened yesterday in China, was unanimously passed, the resolution being handed to the press and reading as follows:
"That this conference of militant poor farmers, assembled in Saskatoon on December 10 and 11 for the purpose of struggle against capitalist oppression, greets the first All-China Congress of Soviets, declares its solidarity with its aims, wishes it success in its efforts to unite China under the rule of the workers and peasants and welcomes this as another step in the direction of the world-wide rule of the toilers."

REPORTS CENSURED
Another resolution censured reports that the Soviet Union was dumping grain and lowering the price of wheat. Delegates stated that depression was the result of dumping policy of Canadian bankers who are forced to export Canadian grain beyond market requirements in order to maintain Canada's balance of trade.

The conference further declared its complete support of the Soviet Union and decided to send a delegation of Canadian farmers to Russia in the near future to secure information on conditions.

Leaders proceeded to Edmonton from Saskatoon, where conference will be held commencing December 13.

SLIGHT INCREASE IN OAK BAY BUS FARES

The following new rates for transportation by the Royal Blue Line Service were approved last night by the Oak Bay Council: Seven cents cash fare or six tickets for 40 cents for buses serving the Uplands and Shoal Bay.

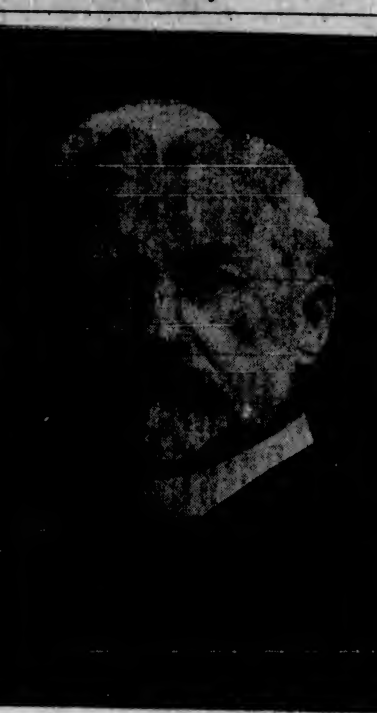

The fares for transportation to other parts of the municipality remain unchanged, being 6 cents cash fare or six tickets for 35 cents.

H. L. Sangster, president of the Blue Line Company, last night welcomed on the Oak Bay Council and explained that the increase had been made necessary by reason of the heavy cost of operation. The company's schedule, regarding times and routes, will remain unchanged.

DOWN ON THE FARM

What agony! To rise at four!
To stagger to the stable door
Then seize the broom, and sweep, and sweep—
(Oh, curse that ever-rising heap!)
And then, to humble stool and pail
To milk, the while her fractious tail
Doth aggravate, in mock embrace,
My sweaty, half-demented face—
Anon, to chickens! Must I squirm
Through muck and fleas—a human worm,
Casting all dignity aside, to beg
That prize—one solitary, futile egg?
Thence to that reeking, steaming bog
Where rolls, so happily, the noxious hog—
What bliss, its chambermaid, to be!
Load after load! The world should envy me!
Ha! And as yet I've only breathed the charm
Of things that elevate—upon the farm!

And Mrs. Robin Renahan and her children mourn too—for Robin Renahan, equally valiant, equally chivalrous, disappeared into the great Northland in search of Burke—and did not come back. With him went Sam Cierf and Frank Hatcher, Mystery surrounds their disappearance. The seagulls that soar over the northern waters may know how the big man-made bird, with its human cargo, fluttered and fell—but to the searchers of the coastal waters it is unknown.

Such, then, is the epic of man's adventuring in the Northland—such is the tragedy of the pioneers of the air in our own time.

ITALIAN GOV'T REJECTS LATEST NAVY PROPOSALS

France May Make Pact With Great Britain on Limitation

FOUR-POWER TREATY
MAY BE NEGOTIATED

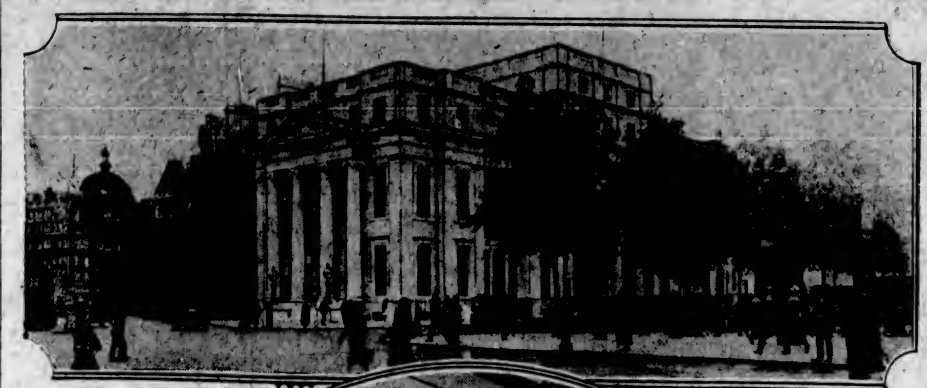

By PAUL SCOTT MOWBRER
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)
PARIS, Dec. 11.—The Franco-Italian compromise proposal pertaining to naval limitation, which the British, as a last resort, submitted to France and Italy a few days ago, and which France accepted as the basis of discussion, has been rejected by the Italian Government.

The Italian expert, Augusto Rosso, is believed to have submitted to the British expert, Robert L. Craigie, at Geneva, Monday, Italian counter-proposals which Mr. Craigie refused even to transmit to the French, on the grounds that they were completely insufficient.

MAY FAIL AGAIN

Unless Italy later makes new proposals the entire Anglo-American mediation may be considered to have failed. It is understood that the French Minister of Marine, Jacques-Louis Dumesnil, has already signed the order for the resumption of construction in all French navy yards.
There is reason to believe that France will now endeavor to nego-

late an agreement with Great Britain with a view to adhering to a four-power naval treaty, leaving Italy out. It is said that Mr. Craigie will pass through Paris en route from Geneva to London, possibly to this end.

HIGH PRICE IS PAID FOR CHAMPION STEER

Cadboro Bay Farmer Sweeps Boards
With Shorthorns at Vancouver
Winter Fair

VANCOUVER, Dec. 11.—A price of 56 cents a pound was paid by David Spencer, Ltd., to James Turner, of Cadboro Bay, for his grand champion steer at the stock sales held in connection with the Winter fair at the Vancouver exhibition grounds Thursday night.
Weighing 914 pounds, the champion steer brought its breeder a sum of more than $600. More than 200 buyers were present at the auction, one of the most successful ever held in British Columbia, and in every class prices offered ranged from three to four cents higher than market prices.

So great was the number of stock offered that it was found necessary to postpone the sales of swine and sheep.

In the Shorthorn classes Mr.
Turner was a heavy winner. He won the junior champion for bull and cow, champion female, champion bull, grand champion cow and reserve grand champion cow. In the class for three animals, get of one sire, Mr. Turner's entry won first, second and young herd. In the class for cows, two years old and under three, he was first with Burnside Rosella.

Mr. Turner's entries in other classes also figured in the prize list.

THE most constructive of all the various com-

of civic pride, and the individual of patriotism and fellowship.

At Christmas there is a moral see that everyone else is able to join the great human

The Employment Service of

TO CONTINUE CANVASS

"Although I have been beaten at the polls the principles stated in my platform remain," declared John Dean, defeated mayoral candidate in yesterday's voting, in a brief interview with The Colonist last night.

"I shall continue my canvass for the use of surplus water for irrigation purposes and shall insist on getting the information, to which I am entitled, for a more extensive study."

"I wish to express my keen gratitude to all those who gave me their support. I regret the outcome more on their account than personally," he said.

Rather than mourn over the poor

Deciding a lawsuit in which two suburban property owners of Cleveland, Ohio, tried to keep airmen from flying over their property, Judge George Hahn ruled that the "effective possession of property" extended only 500 feet up. The plaintiffs' lawyer had cited the ancient Roman legal principle: "Whosoever controls land controls it from the centre of the earth to the "smile," but the judge didn't see it that way. His ruling, if it stands, means that aviators flying lower than 500 feet will be considered as trespassing on the property under them.

Early Start on Fair Buildings Is Mayor's Plan

In order to give employment as soon as possible, work on the Willows buildings will be commenced with the least delay, it was stated by Mayor Anscomb following the confirmation of the by-law by the rate-payors at the municipal elections yesterday.

The two buildings will require the services of many skilled and unskilled workers, and efforts will be made to have the labor required in construction recruited in Victoria, the Mayor says.

As soon as the plans are completed, tenders will be called for the work, and it is hoped to have the underlying work early in January. It is expected that the entire development scheme will take three months to complete.

Men who were recently laid off
by factories in Okota, Colombia, immediately went into the country and secured work on farms, as that district has no unemployment problem.

Another mighty nice thing about Old Dobbin was that his value didn't depreciate about 25 per cent after he had been driven three or four months.—Louisville Times.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION RESULTS

Heartiest congratulations will be tendered to Mayor Herbert Anson on his victory at the polls yesterday. His opponent, Mr. John Dean, was an eleven-hour entrant in the mayoralty contest. He had been absent from the city for the greater part of the year, and it may be that, to some extent, his campaign for office suffered. In saying this there is no attempt to detract from the character of the victory achieved by Mayor Anson. It was a thoroughly handsome endorsement of his regime and a fitting tribute to one who has adorned the post in every way. The Mayor's personality had a good deal to do with the large vote polled. The people trust him. His popularity has become greatly enhanced during his terms of office.

The aldermanic contest has resulted in the election of Aldermen W. T. Straith, James Adam and H. O. Litchfield, and Messrs. W. T. Williams and T. W. C. Hawkins. Alderman Straith headed the poll, his active participation in civic duties during the past two years having won him a host of friends. Mr. Straith and Aldermen Adam and Litchfield deserve their success. It is the reward of close, painstaking and informed attention to municipal affairs. Of the other two gentlemen elected to the City Council, who will take their seats in 1931, Mr. R. T. Williams is the best known, for he is an old-timer who sat on the aldermanic board long years ago for eight consecutive terms. He has been perpetually active for some time past in pressing for development works on Vancouver Island, chiefly that affecting the linking up of the Island and the Mainland by means of an automobile road, via bridge connection over Seymour and adjacent narrows. This policy has won him considerable support. In addition, Mr. Williams' earnestness of purpose and his study of municipal politics are well known. Mr. T. W. C. Hawkins, the other alderman-elect, is a businessman long and favorably known in the community. He possesses sound judgment, which will be an asset to the City Council. Much sympathy will be expressed with Alderman W. H. Cullin in the defeat he suffered. It was a keenly contested election for the City Council, and he was not far from success, a fact which will afford him some consolation.

There will be one change in the personnel of the School Board. It has become a habit for Mr. George Jay to head the poll whenever he runs for office. He has been such a faithful member of the Board and so keen on educational interests in the community that his success as a candidate seems assured as long as he cares to run. Mr. W. C. Moresby, the other trustee elected, is an old-time member. His legal knowledge and the study he has made of local educational matters fit him well for office, and recognition of this has been given by the voters. The new School Trustee-elect is Mr. P. E. George, whose persistency in his efforts to secure a place on the Board have been rewarded. Mr. George displaces Mr. G. A. A. Heben, who was seeking his second term. The latter has shown a most praiseworthy interest in educational problems. He has youth, enthusiasm and energy as his assets and will not be deterred from running again by yesterday's failure.

From the standpoint of public interest one of the most notable of yesterday's results was the election of Mrs. Dorothy North as Police Commissioner. Her victory constitutes a precedent in Canadian municipal life. She carried on a strenuous campaign, through the agency of her husband, a former Police Commissioner. Her success should be an encouragement to other women who have a political bent. In beating Mr. W. Standish she accomplished a task that was an exceptionally hard one, because, during his terms, he had become well versed in the duties of the office and was regarded as well suited to it by many interests in the community.

It is a matter of satisfaction that there should have been such a large vote polled yesterday. It is an earnest of a new awakening of public interest in civic affairs, possibly because there is such an excellent Mayor at present at the head of the administration. If this interest is sustained throughout the year to come it will result to the advantage of Victoria. Only once before was yesterday's municipal vote exceeded, and that fact should give a fillip to a campaign next Autumn to secure a better filled voters' list. The list at present is altogether too attenuated when compared with those compiled for Federal and Provincial purposes.

AIR REGULATIONS

Federal jurisdiction over the air is recognized and as long ago as 1920 was made the subject of Air Regulations which have been amended from time to time. There is an Air Board which exercises its powers, duties and functions under the National Defence Act. It has control over aerial matters on land, on sea and in the air. In other words, it prescribes those conditions which are essential to safety of traffic.

It is under what are known as the Air Regulations that any seaplane base must be established. It is necessary that those interested in such an establishment should have a full knowledge of the regulations for it is according to these that sanction to any base will be given by the responsible authorities. The Air Board, subject to the approval of the Governor-in-Council, has jurisdiction over "the areas within which aircraft coming from any place outside of Canada are to land, and the conditions to be complied with by any such aircraft," and, moreover, "the institution and enforcement of such laws, rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary for the safe and proper navigation of aircraft in Canada or within the limits of the territorial waters of Canada."

The regulations already devised and in force deal specifically with air harbors or seaplane bases. One of these regulations is of paramount importance for it must be a governing factor in the choice of any location for a seaplane base. It reads as follows: "No water-craft shall cross or go upon that part of the water area forming part of any seaplane station which it is necessary to keep clear of obstruction in order that flying machines may take off and alight in safety, having regard to the wind and weather conditions at the time, and every person in charge of a water-craft is guilty of a breach of these regulations if such craft crosses or goes upon such an area after reasonable warning by signal or otherwise."

The foregoing is equivalent to saying that a seaplane base must be so located as to give the utmost freedom to aircraft traffic. In other words, in connection with a base there should be such an area, for landing and taking off, mooring, etc., as will not be interfered with in any way by water-craft. Moreover, the existing Air Regulations stipulate that an air harbor, or seaplane base, means and includes, "any building or other work, whether floating or fixed, used or purposely adapted for the construction, repair, handling, protection, refueling or storage of aircraft designed to alight on water when such building, or other work is adjacent to water upon which aircraft constructed, repaired, handled, protected, refueled or stored in, at, or by such building or work alight, or from which they take off, together with the adjacent area of water."

The quoted regulations indicate the care that must be exercised in the choice of a seaplane base. Such a base must be approved by responsible Federal officials, which suggests that the co-operation of the Department of National Defence should be secured in making a choice. If Victoria is to have a seaplane base the task of choosing a location must be commenced early. The proposed base in the Inner Harbor clearly has features that contravene the Air Regulations, and that is why it has not been approved by the Dominion Government.

BY-LAWS ARE CARRIED

Yesterday's two money by-laws were passed by substantial majorities, particularly that which provides $35,000 for the erection of a manufacturing building at the Willows grounds. It was expected that there would be very little opposition to this desirable structure for the better housing of the exhibits at the annual Provincial Fair. The approval given means that new work will be provided before long contributing to relieving unemployment, which constitutes a satisfactory feature of the people's vote. The emphatic decision on the expenditure of the city's share in this improvement at the Willows to be supplemented by the Provincial Government's grant, is in the nature of a vote of commendation of the able manner in which the British Columbia Agricultural Association is handling its affairs.

The by-law to provide funds for new Fire Department equipment was a necessity, as this service is not sufficiently up to date. One point to be remembered in ordering this new equipment is that it should be bought in Canada, if possible, and if not, then within the British Empire. This is a time when there is emphasis value in encouraging home industry and Empire manufactures. It is by this means that a greater measure of prosperity can be assured.

AUSTRALIAN FILMS

If Australia's pictures bear the slightest resemblance to those of America they will be doomed from birth. That is not to disparage the films this country has been importing for the past few years. They mirrored a period and a culture (ending, by the way, just as the comedies of Aristophanes mirrored the culture of his time, or as the Restoration drama mirrored English life in the seventeenth century. Because the Americans got hold of half the world's gold their society pictures showed the newly-enriched living in houses like vulgarized cathedrals. Because on any one day during the past five years 135,000 murderers were at large in the United States of America, hundreds of gangster pictures were made. Hollywood war pictures reflected the belief of stay-at-home Americans that the Doughboys won the war; Hollywood college pictures the new interest taken by all classes in university life. But none of these manifestations has anything to do with Australia. Deadlier of all would be attempts to show wealthy Australians living the jeweled hotel existence of American millionaires. It was done in an Australian picture shown at Sydney Royal some months ago, and the effect was frightful—Sydney Bulletin.

Too often our world marches forward to the sound of sad notes and requiems. Happy are those whose sweet and gentle speech fills the common life with sweetness and light as did the ancient ministers of joy and music. For their wholesome tongues are indeed "trees of life" and their words "like apples of gold in pictures of silver."—Newton Dwight Hillis.

Our freedom consists in the civil rights and advancements of every person according to his merit; enjoyment of those never more certain, and the access to these never more open, than in a free commonwealth.—John Milton.

PARKING TECHNIQUE

Sir—With the period of Christmas shopping now in full swing the problem of sufficient parking space for automobiles becomes additionally acute.

An aspect of courtesy in motorism which deserves more attention than it is getting as it becomes more complex is that of parking in such a way as to conserve the greatest amount of space. Even casual observation will reveal much wasted parking space which could all be utilized if motorists would just stop to consider their parking technique. Motorists too often park their cars in the middle of a space where there is room for two cars and a little consideration at the time would have made additional space available. A check-up on parking has disclosed the fact that only about two-thirds to three-quarters of the available space is being used and there is possibly nothing more aggravating than to drive round and round a block and see numerous spaces that are not being used. It is not quite large enough to put a note on the car, or herself, the questions each time of things: Have I taken my rightful share of the available space? Am I using the space of two cars by putting my car far away from the next one or have I left my car in such a position that it is impossible to utilize other space near me? The answers to these questions will be an unequivocal yes or no.

GERMAN CENSORS BAR FILM FROM THEATRES

Board Rules Out War Picture, "All Quiet on the Western Front"

BERLIN, Dec. 11 (AP).—Germany's board of film censors today ruled the picture, "All Quiet on the Western Front," out of the country's theatres on the ground it "endangered Germany's international standing."

Snakes were found crawling about among the audience for last night's performance of "All Quiet on the Western Front" at the Kollendorf Platz picture house.

A panic which began to take form at discovery of the snakes, subsided when it was found they were the harmless garden variety.

IS HORROR-STRICKEN
One girl was horror-stricken when she discovered a reptile curling around the leg of her chair. A policeman in a nearby seat grabbed it and assured her it was harmless.

Two more garden snakes were caught in different parts of the house. How they got there nobody explained. The police had made only a random search of those who came and apparently somebody slipped through with the snakes in his pockets.

Fascists charge that the film, which was made by Americans from a German book, is pacifistic and gives an unfair impression of the German private life in the war.

FIVE PERSONS ARE HURT IN COLLISION

Spectacular Automobile Mishap Occurs in Vancouver—Woman Is Seriously Injured

VANCOUVER, Dec. 11 (CP).—Five persons were hurt, one seriously, in a spectacular automobile collision at Twentieth Avenue and Main Street at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Those injured were H. C. Matthews, Mrs. H. C. Matthews, Miss C. Mills, Mrs. M. Jervis and P. C. Gordon. They were removed to the General Hospital in ambulances.

Mrs. Jervis was the most seriously injured. She received severe cuts on the face and head and bruises about the body. The others proceeded to their homes after receiving first aid treatment.

Police officers who investigated, said one of the cars was driven by Gordon and the other by Matthews.

Heath Row, England, is to have an airdrome for private planes.

NATIVE SON PASSES FROM HEART ATTACK

George William Alkman, Langford, Succumbs Suddenly at His Home at Age of 61 Years

George William Alkman, a former member of the Lands Registry Office of the Provincial Government, and a native son of this city, died suddenly shortly before 6 o'clock last night at his home at Langford. Mr. Alkman had apparently been in good health, not having complained of any illness. Death, which came without warning, was a big shock to his family and friends.

The son of Hugh Bowlsby William Alkman, K.C., deceased was born on November 25, 1869. He was educated at the Collegiate School and later joined the staff of the Lands Registry. In 1895 Mr. Alkman married Miss Julia Williams, of Esquimalt.

After thirty years' service in the Lands Registry both here and at New Westminster, Mr. Alkman retired in 1918. Since his retirement he lived in the Highlands district, moving to Langford a few months ago.

Besides the widow he is survived by six children, Albert Edward, Allan William, Milton W., Constance W., Mrs. E. Parker, Mrs. Hilda McKinnon, of the Peace River country, and Marjorie, at home.

Staff-Sergeant R. Owens and Constable Hughes, of the British Columbia Provincial Police, who visited the Alkman home, viewed the body and notified Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, who gave permission for its removal. The remains are resting at the B.C. Funeral Parlors. Funeral announcement will be made later.

LATE H. R. JACKSON IS LAID TO REST

Funeral of Pioneer British Columbia Business Man and Soldier Held Here Yesterday

Many friends and relatives assembled in the city yesterday afternoon to pay their last respects to Hubert Reeves ("Hub") Jackson, of Port Renfrew, former Victorian and pioneer resident of British Columbia, whose funeral took place from Thomson & Fetterly Funeral Home, with Rev. A. E. del. Nunns officiating.

Mr. Jackson was well known in Victoria, having made many friends before taking up his residence in Port Renfrew. Coming to Canada from England, Mr. Jackson was a member of the Queen's Own Rifles in Toronto in 1897. In the Fall of the same year he came to Vancouver, where he joined the firm of Armstrong & Morrison.

With the outbreak of the South African War in 1899, Mr. Jackson left with the Canadian contingent along with a lifetime friend, Thomas C. Wasson, for Capetown, where they joined Lord Roberts' forces. At the conclusion of the war, Mr. Jackson returned to Canada and joined the city assessment department in Vancouver, where he remained until he retired two years ago and moved to Victoria.

After a short residence here he went to live at Port Renfrew, where he succumbed last week following a short illness.

Among the old friends at the funeral was W. C. Dittmarsh, an old business associate, and Major Rowan, both of Vancouver. The pallbearers were Charles Pangman, Dr. Haynes, H. K. Anstie, George Simpson, Thomas Wasson and W. A. R. Hadley. The remains were laid to rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

While 188 families enjoyed the substantial food, warm clothing and children's toys the Army was able to send out last year, it is anticipated that this number will be considerably increased this year, if no worthy case is to be omitted.

Not only is every case the Army attends to investigated from the standpoint of need and worthiness, but also a check is made through the Christmas exchange to see that duplication does not occur with any other Christmas appeal in the city.

On Saturday the familiar slogan, "Keep the Pot Boiling," will be heard upon the street corners, and it is hoped that the response will be a generous one.

As half of the cost of the London Lord Mayor's show and banquet fell upon the new Lord Mayor this year, his bill for his own inauguration was nearly $10,000.

To Pay Manitoba Levy

BRANDON, Man., Dec. 11.—The city of Brandon refuses to pay the "municipal commissioner's levy" to the Provincial Government, and Premier Bracken, as Minister of Finance, is holding back certain payments until settlement is made. The latest move in the controversy is the determination of the city council to seek court action, and if possible, it will bring suit against the Government to secure the withheld payments. Certain winter relief funds are held by the Provincial Government until Brandon settles the levy debate.

Former War Nurse to Wed N.Y. Artist

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11 (AP).—A friendship born in the horror of a world war bombardment will bring together in marriage here next Tuesday Mrs. Kathleen Burke McLean, famed British nurse, and Girard Van Barkaloo Hale, artist, and a descendant of pioneer New York and Philadelphia families.

Application for a marriage licence was filed yesterday by Hale. He is forty-four and Mrs. McLean is forty-three. Both live in Santa Barbara, California.

Twelve years ago, while the Allies' heavy artillery thundered death over Solomons, Mrs. McLean, then Kathleen Burke, and known over the breadth of the Western Front as "The Angel of France," and an American ambulance driver, met by chance.

In the passing of these years, Mrs. McLean came to the United States and married twice, only to experience a measure of the sorrow which she saw and ministered to among the soldiers of the war. In 1922 she married Frederick Forrest Peabody, of Santa Barbara. He died in 1927, and two years later she married Col. John McLean, a mining engineer. Returning to Santa Barbara from their honeymoon, their car collided with another, and Colonel McLean died ten days after the wedding. She was hurt slightly, but recovered.

Overwhelmed by these tragic experiences, Mrs. McLean joined an expedition to Peru to make explorations among the ruins of ancient Mayan life. There she again met Hale.

During the war Mrs. McLean was decorated ten times for heroic work. She was the first woman to enter Verdun during the German siege and with three tables of bridge, while she was most widely known as "The Angel of France," soldiers also knew her under the sobriquet "The Lady of Tenderness and Pity." In America, during her plea for support of the Red Cross, she was heralded as "The Beloved Girl."

AUSTRALIAN CAUCUS ASKS 72 CENTS PER BUSHEL FOR WHEAT

CANBERRA, Australia, Dec. 11 (AP).—A resolution asking legislation for an initial payment of 72 cents a bushel to Australian wheat growers today was passed by the caucus of the Australian Labor party over the protest of the Federal Labor Cabinet.

The figure is above the present world price and the caucus apparently intends to place responsibility for refusing the necessary funds upon the Commonwealth Bank. This bank had agreed to a maximum price of 48 cents a bushel, and the Cabinet, under pressure, proposed to advance 60 cents a bushel.

DAILY ROUGHAGE IS AN ESSENTIAL IN ANY DIET

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Is Effective Relief for Constipation. Also Adds Iron to the Blood

Do you suffer from constipation? Are you one of those who have tried one "vest pocket cure" after another and still have no sense of permanent relief? If so, this is big news to you! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is natural, effective relief for both temporary and recurring constipation. It is the original—and today is included in the diets of millions of people who formerly suffered from constipation.

When roughage is missing from food, constipation is the consequence. The soft foods we eat today seldom include enough roughage. The simple necessity, then, is to see to it that sufficient roughage is included in our food.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the bulk that your system requires.

In addition, it is rich in iron. Scientific research proves that nearly all this iron is absorbed by the system, building red blood and bringing the glorious color of health to the complexion.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is positively guaranteed. Your money will be returned if you are not satisfied. Be sure to include it in reducing diets as a preventive for both constipation and anemia.

There are so many ways you can eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN and enjoy it. In any form, it is appetizing. It is delicious with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over cereals and soups and notice the added flavor. Many people soak it in fruit juices. Excellent in cooked foods. Your grocer has Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. It is served in hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Ask for it! Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

At The Playhouses

COLISEUM Gerald du Maurier, prominent English stage favorite who plays the leading role in the talkie adaptation of Galsworthy's "Escape," now at the Coliseum Theatre, is the son of an equally famous personage. His father, George du Maurier, was a noted artist and author. He wrote "Peter Rabbit" and "Peter Ibbotson," two of the greatest English novels of the last century.

CAPITOL The law lost a good actor when Edward G. Robinson decided to go on the stage. And now he has progressed to the motion picture screen and will be seen and heard in a featured role with the ravishing Mary Nolan in "Outside the Law," the feature production now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

DOMINION Winsome little Barbara Kent, who scored a great personal success as Harold Lloyd's leading lady in "Welcome Danger," is again seen as the chief feminine interest in the spectacular comedian's second all-talking picture, "Feet First," showing last times today at the Dominion Theatre. Miss Kent hails from Alberta, Canada.

PLAYHOUSE The Playhouse Theatre these days is the place for local laugh-minded fans. "Soup to Nuts," Rube Goldberg's hilarious Fox Movietone story holds forth. Such rollicking funsters as Ted Healy and his Racketeers, Frances McCoy, Stanley Smith and Charles Winninger make merry under Benjamin Stoloff's skilful direction.

COLUMBIA In the ballroom scene of "The Lost Zeppelin," Tiffany's all-talking special which is being shown at the Columbia Theatre, Ivan Niyerghazi, a noted concert pianist, is heard. The ballroom scene furnishes a contrast to the hardships of the Zeppelin explorers when they reach the Antarctic region. Virginia Valli is at her best in this scene. She, with Conway Tearle and Ricardo Cortez are the leading players in "The Lost Zeppelin." Also on the same bill is Everett Horton in "The Sap."

FIVE THOUSAND SAW CRICKET AT MIDWICK

Five thousand people in Hollywood journeyed out to the Midwick Country Club, near Hollywood, recently, to watch the filming of the cricket sequence in Ronald Colman's "Raffles," which comes to the Capitol Theatre on Monday. This episode furnishes one of the highlights for Mr. Colman's greatest adventure film based on the exploits of one of England's greatest crime geniuses. In support of the star appears a well-known cast, including Kay Francis and David Torrence.

Ganci Brothers' Display Extends Visit

Model of Palestine will show a few more days in answer to numerous requests. Owing to the hundreds of requests received from Victoria citizens, it has been finally decided to extend the visit of the Ganci Brothers' Model of the Holy Land for just one more week. So great has been the enthusiastic response of this city to a display that is as unique as it is beautiful that the programme originally arranged has been discarded, in order that these many persons who have not yet had the opportunity of examining the display may have the chance of visiting the exhibition at the old Christ Church Cathedral.

This model, admittedly the largest of its kind in existence, has drawn unreserved praise from both heads of churches of all denominations and from experts in historical matters. Forty-four feet long and 18 feet wide, the exhibit is built up in exact replica of the Holy Land, with mountains, lakes and streams in proportion. The figures, electrically operated, portray in different groups scenes from the life of our Lord. It is necessary to actually see this model in order to gain a fair idea of the years of patient toil which has been put into it by the two Ganci Brothers, designers, makers and sole owners of this wonder of the world. Any one interested in religious beauty and sheer mechanical genius is advised to make the most of the few days left during which this exhibit will be open.

VACANT FARMS FORESEEN BY MANITOBA PREMIER

RESTON, Man., Dec. 11 (CP).—Surrounded as she is by high tariff countries, Canada has no place for free trade, but her tariff should protect farmers' produce as well as manufacturers', Premier John Bracken said in an address here last night. More free exchange of commodities between countries was needed, the Premier declared, adding: "It will be a painful process to bring Canada back on a proper business basis."

"It may cost a number of bankrupt farmers and vacant farms," he asserted. Mr. Bracken advised that farmers practise rigid economy, raise their own foodstuffs and gather their fuel.

Canadiens Triumph Over Senators 5-4 In Overtime Battle

Habitants Nose Out Ottawa, 5-4, in Extra Session—Morenz Nets Winner—Americans Take Rough Game From Bruins—Maroons Trim Detroit

OTTAWA, Dec. 11 (CP).—A fighting finish and speed that never ceased, gave Montreal Canadiens a 5-4 victory over Ottawa Senators, here, tonight, in a sensational National Hockey League game. The crimson-sweatered Montrealers finished in a pair of goals in the third period to knot the score and went on to win on a tally that blazed from the stick of Howie Morenz in the extra playing time.

For the first two stanzas and the greater part of the third, Senators played Cecil Harris' human mite as their own game—speed, and then more speed. Up until eleven minutes of the regular playing time the homesters had their opponents outscored 4 goals to 2. But then the habitants went on a rampage, and three counters they scored within a space of fourteen minutes to put the Ottawas on the short end of the count, and stunned a crowd that filled every seat in the auditorium and overflowed into standing-room space.

AMERICANS TRIM BRUINS

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP).—New York Americans outpointed the Boston Bruins in the second game of the National Hockey League season tonight, to gain a 2-1 victory. Fourteen penalties were handed out, two of them majors, for fighting.

All of the scoring came within five minutes at the end of the first period and at the start of the second. Hines and Sheppard made the first tally on a fine pass and a still better shot. Shore tied the count a minute later on Chapman's pass. A lucky goal from Bill Burch's stick a minute after the start of the second period proved to be the winning counter. The puck, coming from the corner of the rink, struck a Boston player and caromed into the goal.

The Line-Ups
Americans—Worters; Dutton and Ayres; Burch, Patterson and Emma. Sub: Simpson, Bryde, Himes, Neville, Carson, McVeigh, Sheppard, Masecar and Hughes.

20,000 Expected at Stribling-Griffiths Heavy Bout Tonight

Georgian and Sioux City Gladiators Expected to Draw Gate of Over $100,000 at Chicago—Southerner Is 2 to 1 Favorite

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP).—Just how much business Gerald Stribling, the tough young fighter from Sioux City, Iowa, has in the heavy weight class will be determined tomorrow night when he meets with Young Stribling, of Macon, Ga., in the Chicago Stadium. Stribling, by his quick triumph over Otto Von Porat and Phil Scott, has built himself a position among the heavies that only a good, sound licking can destroy. Griffiths, however, has been an in-and-out, going well against reverse against some not so good. The National Boxing Association has hinted that the winner will be his choice for a heavyweight championship match with Max Baer, and both Stribling and Griffiths are eager to be first in line in case it goes through.

STIR FAVORITE
The fact that Stribling has taken it easy in training has not caused only a good, sound licking can destroy. Griffiths, however, has been an in-and-out, going well against reverse against some not so good. Crispness Required for Chip Shot

By SOL METZGER
The main thing in the chip shot is crispness. Even though it is like the putt, the player must remember that it takes more force to lift a ball a given distance than to putt it to the same spot. Hence the back-swing is longer. Jones takes his club back with the left hand in control, swinging it much as a putter. Note how his head stays down, how he is absolutely concentrated upon the problem offered by this delicate short stroke. There is no hurry, yet there must be firmness in playing the shot. Note, too, that his masher-nibbler swings back on an arc inside the line of flight, the natural arc a club will take when it is carried back properly, with the left in control. And note, too, that there is little if any body pivot.

Next—The Finish of the Stroke.

UNIVERSITY SCHOOL THIRD XV DEFEATS VICTORIA HIGH, 6-0

Harry Smith refereed the game and the teams follow:

University School: Staples, Dunlop, P. Allan, Hill, Dubell, Gohy, Kerfoot, Britton, Hawes, Allan, Millie, Coleman, Callahan, Spencer and Davis.

Champion to Meet Kid Chocolate in Fifteen-Round Go

Cuban Battler Will Get First Chance at Ring Title at Madison Square Garden—Sensational Encounter Is Expected

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP).—Kid Chocolate, battling bonbon from Cuba, gets his first chance at a ring title tomorrow night, and the experts are wondering if his opportunity hasn't come too late. The Cuban flash, a sensation in American rings for two years, battles Bat Battalino, of Hartford, world's featherweight champion, in a titular bout in Madison Square Garden.

Strange rumors about the "Kid" have been afloat for some time. After ploughing through all opposition without a setback, Chocolate tangled with Jack "Kid" Berg, British lightweight, who was forced to accept the first defeat of his career.

Then came his fight with Fidel La Barba, former flyweight champion. La Barba pounded away at Chocolate's body, wore him down with this type of attack, and galloped off with the decision by the well-known country mile.

If Chocolate no longer can take a pounding about the body, Battalino will discover it in short order. The Hartford lad lacks the grace and cleverness that made Chocolate so fine a fighting machine to watch, but the champion is rough and ready, and a noddy, edging him in fifteen rounds to discover any weakness Chocolate has.

Battalino's only training trouble has been the weight question. He has found it a bit difficult getting rid of excess pounds. Chocolate, on the other hand, is a "light" featherweight.

KID CHOCOLATE
Dusky Cuban battler, who will get his first shot at a ring title tonight when he meets Bat Battalino at Madison Square Garden in a fifteen-round main for the featherweight championship.

LANGFORD DOWNS "Y" SECOND TEAM

By administering a 12-4 defeat to the Y.M.C.A. "A" squad, J.B.A.A. maintained its unbeaten record in the Third Division of the Lower Island League on the latter's home floor. The Y.M.C.A. "B" aggregation dropped a 14-2 decision to the strong Langford team.

With only two more games remaining of their first half schedule, the doarismen have a fine opportunity for winning the honors with a clean slate. The Bays captured five of the women's doubles, dropped some ground in the men's doubles, but swept to victory by capturing seven of the eight mixed doubles.

champion, in a titular bout in Madison Square Garden.

Strange rumors about the "Kid" have been afloat for some time. After ploughing through all opposition without a setback, Chocolate tangled with Jack "Kid" Berg, British lightweight, who was forced to accept the first defeat of his career.

Then came his fight with Fidel La Barba, former flyweight champion. La Barba pounded away at Chocolate's body, wore him down with this type of attack, and galloped off with the decision by the well-known country mile.

If Chocolate no longer can take a pounding about the body, Battalino will discover it in short order. The Hartford lad lacks the grace and cleverness that made Chocolate so fine a fighting machine to watch, but the champion is rough and ready, and a noddy, edging him in fifteen rounds to discover any weakness Chocolate has.

Battalino's only training trouble has been the weight question. He has found it a bit difficult getting rid of excess pounds. Chocolate, on the other hand, is a "light" featherweight.

WAR ON DRAFT QUESTION STILL ON

Minor Leagues Walk Out During Meeting With Major Groups

Breach Between Various Groups Greatly Widened Following Stormy Session—Minors Decide to Work by Themselves in Future

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP).—Relations between the major and minor leagues were strained today by the controversy over the universal draft and organized baseball's first open warfare since the days of the Federal League fifteen years ago. Bubbling over with wrath, the committee of nine representing the American Association and the Pacific Coast and International Leagues, stormed out of a joint meeting with representatives of the National and American Leagues late this afternoon, determined to carry on business in the future without any relations whatsoever with the majors. The break-up brought an end to three days of negotiations here and left no prospect that the big and little brothers of organized baseball could hope to settle their differences peacefully in the near future.

DEFINITE SPLIT

The two branches of baseball split definitely on the proposition of optioning out players for seasoning and price to be paid for athletes drafted by the majors. The majors, headed by President Ernest S. Bernard, of the American League, and John A. Heydler, of the National League, insisted they be allowed to select players from class "A" teams—teams of the American Association, Pacific Coast and International League, who had four years of experience in leagues of lower classification. On this point, and the question of price to be paid for these athletes, the committee could reach no agreement.

The majors offered $7,500 for each drafted player, a drop of $1,000 from their offer at the recent Cleveland conference, while the minors asked for $10,000.

REFUSE TO ARBITRATE

As a final resort the minor league committee, headed by Charles H. Strub, president of the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast League, offered to place settlement of the controversy in the hands of High Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis with the understanding that both sides would agree to stand by his decision. The major league committee refused to accept this offer and the minors thereupon marched out of the meeting, in warlike formation.

As soon as an impasse was reached, the minor league committee of nine met again to formulate plans for the future that include no hope of reconciliation with the majors.

Has Close to 1,000-Point Edge Over English Champ—McConachy Showing Form

LONDON, Dec. 11 (CP).—Tom Newman was still ahead of Joe Davis, his opponent, at the close of today's play in the sixth match of the international billiards tournament. Newman had 14,055 points, in play, and Davis, who is England's champion, 13,656.

While the two Britons played at Thurston Hall, here, the Australians, who complete the professional quartet in the tournament, were playing at Plymouth. Clarke McConeachy, who is apparently staging a "comeback," after losing all of the previous matches of the series, closed with 14,151 points, and Walter Lindrum in play with 5,550.

RUDOLPH, TABERSKI WIN CUE MATCHES

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP).—Erwin Rudolph, of Chicago, and Frank Taberski, of Schenectady, N.Y., chalked up victories in the world's pocket billiards championship tournament here this afternoon.

Rudolph scored his second triumph in as many starts, defeating Thom Boatman, of Portland, Ore., 125 to 80 in twenty innings. Rudolph had a high run of 31, Boatman one of 29.

Taberski, a former champion, beat Benjie Allen, of Kansas City, 125 to 62 in seventeen innings. Taberski closed out the match with an unfinished run of 37, the best cluster of the duel. Allen's best was a run of 17. Taberski had lost his first two matches of the tournament. Allen and Boatman each had suffered three straight defeats.

FIRST PSYCHOLOGY FOUND IN MOLIERE

Prof. H. Ashton, of B.C. University, Shows Famous French Dramatist in New Light

Moliere's famous "Les Precieuses Ridicules," one of the very first comic satires of the French stage, was also one of the very earliest attempts at psychology. "Long before the horrible term was ever invented," according to Professor H. Ashton, M.A., D.Litt., of the Department of French in the University of British Columbia, whose lecture on "Moliere," given last night at the Girls' Central School, was the last of the pre-Christmas addresses under the University Extension course.

This, however, was but one among many original observations made by Dr. Ashton in the course of his scholarly and witty discourse, which was listened to by a big audience of students and older people. A series of admirably-selected lantern slides illustrated the subject-matter effectively, serving particularly to show the traditional "fixed" characters of the "commedia del arte," which were the types in existence when Moliere came and recreated the drama for France, and the map of "The Country of Love," which was the subject of the brilliant dramatist's satire, as well as the guide to courtship in use by the ladies of the Hotel Rambouillet.

NO SHORT CUTS

Moliere's life and character was given its modern context, Professor Ashton finding in the long struggles of the dramatist, his unremitting toil, his many disappointments, the jealousy of his rivals, the cruelty of his publishers, the failure of some of his plays, the rebuffs and neglect of his friends testimony to the age-old truth that genius is not attained "along a pathway of uninterrupted progress ending in a blaze of glory." "Moliere's life should prove a great stimulus to any real worker, for it shows that, contrary to the views held by many people, one must do something more than merely rise in the morning and proceed to his genius," the speaker concluded.

Professor Ashton depicted Moliere as a man of solid ideas and great sincerity in his private life; and an artist of taste and refinement. His humor, which had the vivacity of genius, was directed against much that was pretentious, bombastic, silly and hypocritical in his own time, and showed a keen and analytical observation of his fellows, "although his was not the sad contemplation of life." At a time when play upon words was much in vogue his work was notable for its freedom from puns. And he despised the trick of mere repetition. Professor Ashton declared himself as in favor of the old French tradition, which presented Moliere's plays as comedies and not as the tragedies which a later school tried to make of them, and brought convincing proof of Moliere's intention that they should be presented as comedies. On the whole the plays were not popular with the ladies as they pictured women in a rather unfavorable light, dominated by the men of the plays.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

"Moliere's plays have a keener meaning for boys and girls," the speaker maintained, "because they show that the modern problem is not, after all, so modern as we are prone to believe. They show us there is an evolution that is vastly better than revolution."

The speaker was by no means pessimistic about the youth of today. The young people of this generation, perhaps, did not get full credit for their own striving. In some quarters there was an idea that the present generation was different from any that ever preceded it, but, after being in close touch with boys and girls and young men and women, both of the pre-war and post-war generations, he could say that there was a close similarity. The rising generation had a great fund of common sense, hated hypocrisy, and, if properly and courageously led, would work and undergo mental discipline. If they could be protected from the "get-learning-quick" fads, from the short cuts, there was little to fear for them or from them.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.
YOU CAN GET TOO MUCH SUNLIGHT

Why is it that in Switzerland, where the light and heat of the sun have long been used in the treatment of tuberculosis, that there is more tuberculosis among the inhabitants than is found in England with its cloudy, misty and rainy weather. So prevalent is tuberculosis there that experts admit that to obtain a cure the patient must leave for the less sunny plains.

Also, tuberculosis is one of the most serious scourges of Egypt and India, where the sun is practically always shining.

Sir Henry Gauvain, the pioneer in England of the use of the sun's rays in cases of surgical tuberculosis of the bones and joints, tells us that the sun treatment is more effective in the constantly changing conditions of a temperate climate than in the steady hot climate of tropical regions. Individuals vary in their response to light, and in the same individual there is a variance, not only according to season, but also according to the actual time of the day. There is more health value in the light of the morning, and yet it is less intense than the light of the midday sun. This is due to the fact that the body has just come from the darkness of the night and thus gets a greater shock. This particular kind of shock stimulates the disease-resisting efforts of the body to more effective work.

Therefore, as Dr. Gauvain points out, darkness is as necessary for light treatment as is the sun itself. Continuous exposure to sunlight in summer would not produce results as speedily as heat and cold, dry and humid air.

Now this is encouraging news to those afflicted with tuberculosis in other parts of the body than the lungs, where the thought that any other climate rather than their own would be more beneficial.

Where there is tuberculosis of the lungs the dry climate is considered best, with a reasonable amount of sun daily.

As a matter of fact, a real hot sun cannot be borne for any length of time by very young children, elderly people and those seriously ill.

So remember then that the sun is the great healing agent, but like any other medicine, it doesn't affect everybody in the same way. Each individual responds in his own particular way, and he and his physician must be aided by the effects noted.

Everybody should get some sun daily if possible. It makes every process in the body more active; it stimulates the tissues to greater activity.

Also be thankful for your "changeable" climate.

What Today Means

"SAGITTARIUS"

If December 12 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 8 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. and from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

An improvement in conditions over the last few days is indicated for this date, although some unexpected disappointments may occur. Do not offend a superior, or ask for favors at this time. Lucky for family affairs.

The children born on this December 12 will have extremely sensitive natures, and will suffer from imaginary hurts. They will have refined and artistic tastes, and will strive for peace and harmony. They will be emotional, and will be ruled by their hearts.

You have a very unusual and in some ways an unfortunate character—you always manage to put your worst foot forward. People never know where they stand with you, as you often sacrifice sincerely for the sake of your own popularity. You are reserved, so much so that others call you secretive and cold. You quickly sense any animosity of people with whom you come in contact, and instead of thawing out, you only present a more frigid exterior.

You are extremely intelligent, and worship at the shrine of intellect, and you do not "suffer fools gladly." Your very warm affections are seldom revealed, even to those who have a right to expect some outward demonstrations. You are not in the least responsive, and seldom enter into the moods of "outsiders," nor is it easy for you to give sympathy.

If you be a man, you prefer the companionship of other men—women you do not understand. If you be a woman, you also prefer the friendship of the masculine sex, and have more of a man's type mind and attitude towards life. There is very little frivolity about you. You are fitted for creative work, such as art, writing, or some department of sciences. You rather scoff at love and romance, but it is not probable that you will live a solo life. You will not be especially fond of children, until you have your own.

SEEKS COMPLETION OF DOMINION ROAD

George I. Warren Tells of Efforts Made at Winnipeg Convention to Help Canada

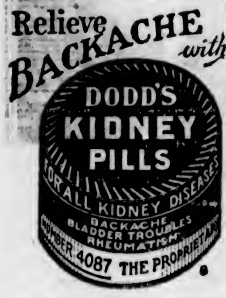

The necessity for the completion of the Canadian Highway across the length of the Dominion, and the ever-increasing importance of the tourist trade to the country, were matters that received a great deal of attention at the convention of the Canadian Association of Tourist and Publicity Bureaus, which met in Winnipeg, and which was attended by George I. Warren, publicity commissioner of this city. Mr. Warren has arrived home after paying a visit to the East, during which time he took up matters of pressing importance to the city.

A resolution was adopted at the convention with regard to the Canadian Highway completion. It was pointed out to the Government's concern in this that the matter was one that had a strong bearing on the unemployment situation in the Dominion.

The resolution calls upon the Governments of Ontario and Manitoba to lend all assistance possible in this undertaking as the Government's concern in this that the matter was one that had a strong bearing on the unemployment situation in the Dominion.

With regard to the importance of the tourist trade in Canada, it was pointed out, and will be pressed upon the Dominion Government, that there is a very large sum spent and an organized effort put forth by various organizations in the matter of promoting the tourist trade. Facts will be presented to the Dominion Government. In view of the fact that some $3,000,000 or more is being spent by other than the Dominion Government in this line of enterprise, the Federal authorities will be asked to expend at least $1,000,000 in this direction as an annual amount extending over not less than five years.

Mr. Warren conferred with officials of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa with regard to the early publication of information connected with the industrial survey of this city which was prepared by

Scenes From Lord Mayor's Show at London

EVER since that memorable occasion, centuries ago, when Dick Whittington returned to London with his cat and became Lord Mayor of the British capital, the Lord Mayor's Show has been an annual feature of the city's festivities. These pictures were taken when the new Lord Mayor, Sir William Phene Heal, succeeded to that enviable position. Left, the procession passing the Law Courts, showing Home Produce floats, followed by the Canadian and Australian floats. Top, right: The new Lord Mayor, Sir William Phene Heal, third from left, with his predecessor, Sir William Waterlow, after the ceremony. the chamber and which the Government is about to bring out. Further, Mr. Warren conferred with both E. W. Beatty and Sir Henry Thornton on the subject of securing for Victoria additional advantages in connection with the tourist trade facilities here. He was highly pleased with his reception by the railway heads, but defers his announcement with respect to the matters until he has presented his report to the directors of the chamber.

The lengthy recital had drawn to a close, ice cream and cake had been served, and the teacher was bidding the students good-bye. One of the little performers had brought her small brother with her. As he was about to leave the teacher beamingly asked, "Well, Bobby, did you enjoy the recital?" "Yes," answered Bobby, "all but the music."

News and Notes of the Interior

FENTINGTON—The Associated Growers sent out a total of $271,705.45 to its co-operative grower locals this week as a payment on unclosed pools. This payment applies to all apples shipped to Associated order or in cold storage under Associated direction. It is expected that another payment of about the same size will be made by the Associated shortly before Christmas on all apple stocks on hand, both belonging to the Associated and to the locals. These two payments mean that the Associated is distributing, chiefly to the Okanagan, about $550,000 during the month of December.

MINERS' OFFICERS—The election of officers for the British Columbia

Miners' Association resulted in G. G. Sawyer being elected president with a substantial majority. W. A. Harrison was re-elected financial secretary with almost double the number of votes accorded his opponent.

KASLO ELECTRIC LIGHT—KASLO—One hundred and thirteen ratepayers of the city of Kaslo showed their faith in their home town on Tuesday by casting their ballots in favor of a by-law to expend $40,000 for the renewal of the municipal electric plant. Only nine voted against the proposal.

DEVELOPING GRANITE QUARRY—CRANBROOK—Members of a small syndicate of local men, headed by J. P. Huchcroft, are at present developing the granite quarry which lies close to the Canadian Pacific Railway, four miles west of Cranbrook. This is the quarry from which a trial shipment of material was made early last summer. The granite proved so satisfactory to the parties who purchased it that they are in the market for more.

FUNERAL OF PIONEER—SMITHERS—One of the largest gatherings which has ever assembled here to honor the departed attended the funeral services for the late Louis L. DeVoin, a pioneer resident of Central British Columbia. Mr. DeVoin succumbed to bronchial pneumonia in Smithers Hospital after an illness of ten days.

MANY YEARS IN OKANAGAN—ARMSTRONG—Mrs. B. F. Young, aged seventy-eight, died recently at her farmhouse where she and her husband lived since coming here in 1878. Besides her husband, she is survived by three sons, Vance Young, Frank Young and Arthur Young, all residents here, and two daughters, Mrs. Fritzie, of Lacomb, and Mrs. Henderson, of Toronto. With the exception of Mrs. Fortune, who died two weeks ago, Mrs. Young was the pioneer white woman in the Okanagan Valley.

SAYS DOMINION GOV'T SHOULD CONSULT EAST ON RELIEF FOR WEST

QUEBEC, Dec. 11.—If Canada as a whole was to help the West through its present wheat difficulties the Dominion Government "might at least consult Quebec, since this old province and the old province of Ontario will have to bear most of the burden of such relief," Premier L. A. Taschereau stated during an address last night in the Quebec Legislature. The Premier was continuing debate on the reply to the speech from the Throne. Quebec was willing to help the West again, as it had in the past, the Premier said. This province's sons and daughters had played a large part in civilizing and colonizing the West. Nevertheless, he felt Ontario and Quebec should be spoken to before the Dominion Government acted on suggestions of aiding the Western Governments.

A quartette of revellers were down on the waterfront one moonlight night, singing "Sweet Adeline," when the tenor fell off the dock into the bay. The incident passed unnoticed by the leader, but he perceived that something was wrong with the harmony.

"Smatter with you boys?" he complained. "One of you don't sound right."

"It's Jack," rumbled the basso, solemnly. "He's off quay."

"I have terrible toothache."

"Well, repeat 100 times: 'Get behind me, pain.'"

"Then I should have lumbago."

PLEADS FOR FAMILY IDEA AMONG NATIONS

Dr. Clem Davies Calls for Wider Spirit of Internationalism Throughout World

"We must go further; we must go from the family of nations of the British Commonwealth to the family of nations of the world," said Dr. Clem Davies, addressing the luncheon of the Rotary Club in the Empress Hotel yesterday. The subject of citizenship was being dealt with by the speaker. He said it was not enough for one to love his own country. He must go further in the development of the family idea and adopt the principle of internationalism. Dr. Davies admitted that the word was a cold one and did not have the attraction there should be for the idea that was represented by it.

The speaker traced the history of the race from the family which was first represented in the days of the cave man. For the purpose of protection there grew up the family, the tribe, the feudal organization and the nation. The actual principle behind this was protection, which was the fundamental principle of the family in the first place. The love which a man developed for his own family was extended gradually to his neighbors and on to the nation. The absolute supremacy of the state, Dr. Davies said, must be killed or it would destroy citizenship. The spirit of nationalism parades as patriotism.

"Nationalism is patriotism gone to seed," said the speaker.

In a family the duty of each was to see that every member of the family got a square deal. The same principle of equal rights should apply to the nation and every member of it should have equality of opportunity. If a nation demands the conscription of even the citizen's life in time of war it should see that there was an equality of opportunity at other times.

The thanks of the club were conveyed to Dr. Davies by the president, Rev. Montague Bruce, for his instructive address.

J. McGrath contributed vocal selections during the luncheon.

Customs Revenue in 1930 Much Reduced

OTTAWA, Dec. 11 (CP).—With two-thirds of the present fiscal year now completed, ordinary revenues of the Dominion show a decrease of $7,498,529 in comparison with the corresponding period a year ago. The monthly statement issued through the Department of Finance, covering eight months of the fiscal year, reveal a total ordinary revenue of $261,720,309. Ordinary revenue during the same eight months of the preceding fiscal year was $319,218,838.

A small increase was made during the eight months in the income tax collections, but total customs revenue during the eight months just completed was $93,992,787, as compared with $130,584,870 for the corresponding eight months a year ago, a decrease of $34,692,113.

"William the Conqueror," read the small boy from his history book, "landed in England in A.D. 1066."

"What does A.D. stand for?" inquired the teacher.

"Why, 'after dark,' of course," was the reply.

Mrs. James A. Stewart, Stollarton, N.B., writes: "For some time I was troubled with a dry, hacking cough, caused by a heavy cold I had, at first, neglected. A friend told me if I would take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup it would help me, so I got a bottle and it did relieve my cough."

"I am the mother of six children and I use it for every one of them when they have colds and it always gives relief, and I would not be without it in the house for anything."

Feminine Entry in 200-Mile Dog Derby

THE PAS, Man., Dec. 11 (CP).—Woman's newest step into the off-invasion domain of man tonight promised to be a feminine entry into the 200-mile dog derby at The Pas next March. Derby officials state that Miss Thula Geelan, well-known musher of McCall, Idaho, has asked for full details of the Northland grind, hitherto solely a man's job. She says she is anxious to enter.

Presented by Thomas Bloxom, a farmer, for public use, a bier was used recently for the first time at Bagworth, England, to convey the body of the donor's wife to the grave.

PRESIDENT HOOVER GIVEN EMERGENCY EMPLOYMENT FUND

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP).—The Senate gave President Hoover his emergency employment fund today while the House talked Indians, public lands and kindred subjects covered by the Interior Supply Bill, with time out for a few words about drought relief.

Without a dissenting voice, the Senate struck from the employment appropriation the section which would give the President discretionary power in spending the funds, but it gave him $5,000,000 more than the House proposed, bringing the total to $115,000,000.

LONDON WOMAN SUES FILM CORPORATIONS

Takes Action Under Act of 1781, Which Forbids Sunday Amusement Performances

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP).—Miss Millie Orpen, a young London woman, today adopted the role of "common informer" and filed writs against a number of film corporations and theatres, claiming damages stated in the aggregate as more than $100,000 (about $500,000).

Her action was taken under an act of 1781, which forbids Sunday amusement performances and follows upon the recent ruling of three high court judges that Sunday movies would be forbidden after December 14. She charges breach of the act.

Miss Orpen, a girl of twenty-three, who works in the city every day, told interviewers, however, that she was playing a lone hand in this action and was not backed by any organization.

HAS ANCIENT STANDING

The common informer rarely appears nowadays in English prosecutions, but has ancient standing in English law, the position having been legally regularized as long ago as the reign of Henry VII. In those days, owing to crude administration and lack of police, private citizens frequently informed against breaches of the law, receiving all or part of the fines imposed.

When the judges ruled against Sunday movies on December 5, wide protests were heard from movie men, who planned an appeal, but the decision was hailed as a triumph by the Lord's Day Observance Society. Other amusements, such as dog racing, were not affected.

London is the only English city which has shown films on Sunday. Violations of the old Blue Law was permitted because the film men gave part of their receipts to charity.

FOUR REGIMENTS OF GOVERNMENT TROOPS RUSHED TO SHICHOW

CANTON, Dec. 11 (AP).—Four regiments of Government troops were rushed to Shichow today to halt the invasion of 10,000 Reds, reported to have captured all important places along the border to Kwangtung and Kiangsi Provinces. Twenty-seven officers and men of three other Cantonese regiments, at Shichow, were reported executed by provincial authorities in consequence of their regiments yielding to Communist bribery. Four civilians also were executed.

The Reds poured south through Kiangsi. Damage done to Kiangsi cities was not known, owing to broken communications.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

WONDERFUL VARIETY IN FISH RESOURCES

Perhaps few Canadians are aware of the fact but the octopus is among the fishes taken in the commercial fishery in the Pacific Coast waters of the Dominion. There's a wonderful variety, indeed, in Canada's fisheries resources. In 1928, to cite some recent figures, British Columbia fishermen landed over 55,000 pounds of the strange looking, eight-armed octopus and in 1929 more than 28,000 pounds. The fish are eaten chiefly by Orientals in the province and bring between 5c and 10c a pound on the market.

No fishing for octopus alone is carried on but the fish are the incidental product of other fishing operations. For the most part, they are taken in the nets of the small druggers.

Over 3,700 pounds of caviar was produced in Canada last year from $1 a pound.

Rail Stocks Again Lead in General Decline of Prices On New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP).—The general level of share prices dipped into new low ground for the year today, but refusal of United States Steel common and a few other pivotal shares to pass under their previous lows brought a swift change of trend in the last hour, and net losses at the finish were mostly narrow.

Some of the widest breaks again occurred in the rails. New York Central dropped 5 points to the lowest in five years, then recovered all but 1-1/2. Atchafalaya tumbled 8 points, then recovered 4. American Waterworks, Johns-Manville and Baltimore & Ohio sagged about 5 to new lows, and recovered moderately. General Electric and Westinghouse dipped about 2 points to new lows, but recovered most of their losses. United States Steel sold off 3 to 138 1/2 November 10 low, but would not go farther, and later regained half its loss.

American Can and Standard of New Jersey kept substantially above their lows. Foreign exchanges were inclined to ease. A notable development was the drop in the Canadian dollar to a discount of 5-3/4 of a cent, which resulted in a shipment of $5,000,000 in gold from Montreal. Canadian exchange normally sags after the closing of St. Lawrence navigation.

Pressure on the bond market continued unabated today. Losses of 1 to 3 points and more, liberally sprinkled through the domestic and foreign lists, recalled the days immediately following the crash in stock prices a year ago, when holders of coupon bearing obligations dumped their holdings without regard to intrinsic merit in order to obtain ready cash for share market purposes.

JURYMEN TOLD HOW A. RICKARD MET HIS DEATH

Verdict is Returned at Inquest in Nanaimo on Killing of Hunter

F. THOMAS ASSERTS
HE SAW DEER PLAINLY

NANAIMO, Dec. 11.—The coroner's jury impeached to inquire into the death of Andrew Rickard found that he died in the Nanaimo Hospital, at 5 p.m., on December 7, from hemorrhage and shock caused by a gunshot wound inflicted by Fletcher Thomas, who mistook him for a deer, at about 8:30 a.m. on December 7, 1930, in the vicinity of the Siwash Ridges, Nanaimo Land District. The jury added: "We would recommend that in future, in all instances of this kind, gun licenses should be cancelled definitely."

Fletcher Thomas, of Wellington, told the jury that the late James Andrew Rickard was the best friend he had in the world, that they had hunted together as partners for years without an accident, their friendship dating back to boyhood days. Thomas completely broke down before his evidence was given, and he had to be allowed to go to an adjoining room to recover, before he was recalled to proceed with his testimony. Thomas stated that he and Rickard left early Sunday morning and lit a fire at an old logging camp, where they waited for daylight. After getting to the ridges they separated several times and met. Thomas claimed that at these meetings Rickard was wearing a blueish-white shirt. Ten minutes after they separated the last time, with Rickard agreeing to go down an incline and scare the deer up, Thomas heard a rustling of nearby bushes. He said the thought occurred to him that it was a deer, but he did not shoot. He said he saw the deer then saw an antler before he raised his gun to fire. As soon as the gun discharged he heard his partner's cry, "Fletcher! Fletcher, I'm shot!" and rushed to the scene, where he found him wounded. He fired signal shots and hailed for help and attracted the attention of Johnny Bigrand and Douglas Blood. They looked at Rickard, took off his shirt and tried to fix up the wounds. Then they made a stretcher with their clothes.

"It was then decided that I go to the road for help," Thomas said, "and I hurried to the road and went to Vipond's and neighbors, secured help and a stretcher which Mr. Vipond had, sent another man for a doctor and returned to the woods in search of the stretcher-bearers, who were on their way out with the wounded man."

"My gun, which was a .303 Savage, was broken while I was running for help, so I was unable to signal to them as previously arranged, so after a lot of hailing we located them. Finally we heard a shot and found the two boys. We transferred Rickard from the old stretcher to the new one and carried him out to the road and to the car.

"Dr. Proctor was already there and gave him attention. The ambulance then came and took him away to the hospital."

SAYS DEER WAS THERE

In reply to Coroner Hickling as to whether or not he did not shoot too hastily, Thomas emphatically replied there was a deer. He saw it. Asked where it went to, or in what direction, he stated he couldn't say, "but that the deer was there, and an outburst of violent weeping followed. In reply to a question, it was discovered that a missing sweater was in Thomas' baggage and that other clothing had been ripped off at the hospital to hasten aid for the wounded man, and since buried."

Dr. Proctor stated he was called on Sunday at 10:30 by Constable Lennox and went out to Black Jack Road, where, after a wait of forty-five minutes, they brought out the wounded man, who was roughly bandaged and taken by ambulance to the Nanaimo Hospital. The bullet, he stated, entered the back about the middle of the right shoulder blade. It traversed upward and outward to have its exit at the front, from the effects of which Rickard died.

FOR TWO HOURS

Douglas Blood, of Lansville, informed the court that he was hunting with John Slogar, on Sunday, and about 8:30 in the morning he heard a shot, then a man hallooing excitedly. They went in that direction and then heard three shots, which they took for an appeal for help. His companion, Slogar, answered by a shot from his rifle. Finally they got to where a man was lying. They fixed him up as best they could, placed him on an improvised stretcher and carried him for two hours, until Thomas returned with help.

Questioned by the court, witness stated the injured man wore a faded khaki shirt, while a sweater of a different color lay alongside him. John Slogar, Blood's hunting companion, on being called to the stand, gave evidence practically the same as the previous witness. On reaching the scene of the accident he stated he saw Thomas sitting on the side of a small knoll with his hands to his head. He then saw a man lying face down, and on turning him over found him to be wounded. He then did his best to stop the flow of blood by bandages, while his companion, Blood, and Thomas, made a stretcher, following which Thomas was sent for help.

In answer to questions, witness stated that he thought Rickard was unconscious when they first arrived on the scene, but came to after help for help and attracted the attention of Johnny Bigrand and Douglas Blood. They looked at Rickard, took off his shirt and tried to fix up the wounds. Then they made a stretcher with their clothes.

LABOR PARTY ASKS FOR MINIMUM WHEAT PRICE

Australian Caucus Demands Initial Payment Farmer of Seventy-Two Cents Per Bushel

CANBERRA, Australia, Dec. 11 (CP).—A resolution asking legislation for an initial payment of 72 cents a bushel to Australian wheat growers, was passed by the caucus of the Australian Labor party today over the protest of the Federal Labor Cabinet.

The figure is above the present world price, and the caucus apparently intends to place responsibility of refusing the necessary funds upon the Commonwealth Bank. The bank had formerly agreed to a maximum advance of 48 cents a bushel, f.o.b., and the Cabinet, under pressure, proposed to advance 60 cents a bushel.

A figure of 72 cents a bushel as proposed by the party caucus, however, is regarded as irrelevant to the realities of the situation. It is claimed this payment would involve a loss to the bank, or else to the Australian taxpayers, of at least $35,000,000 at the present world level of wheat prices.

N.Y. EXCHANGE SEATS

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP).—Sales of New York Stock Exchange memberships were arranged today, one at $206,000 and two at $205,000 each.

The sale at $206,000 was a reduction of $20,000 from the previous sale, a new low price for seats since 1927, when they sold as low as $170,000.

STEP TAKEN TO PROVIDE FUNDS FOR HOSPITAL

King's Daughters' Institution at Duncan Is in Financial Difficulties

MEETING DECIDES TO FORM ASSOCIATION

DUNCAN, Dec. 1.—The King's Daughters' Hospital is in financial difficulty, and last night 120 people attended a public meeting called by the board of directors to consider ways and means of relieving the situation. Major Prevost occupied the chair and outlined the situation. The mayor said that there was a deficit of $4,000 to the last four months; their contingency fund of $1,200 was gone, and there was an overdraft at the bank of $2,500. There was a mortgage on the buildings of $10,000, and the value of the hospital was estimated at $65,000. Mr. Drayton asked a number of questions. The treasurer could not say how much of the $10,000 owing to the hospital was collectable, nor could he say what percentage of this amount was owing by patients who had occupied private rooms. The Order of King's Daughters did not desire to give up control of the hospital.

HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION

After some further discussion, a resolution was passed, without opposition, that a Cushman District Hospital Association be formed, with a membership fee of $1 per year. The association would be managed by a president and an executive of seven members. The association would assist the hospital in every possible way, and the mayor said that the body would be given representation on the hospital board as soon as the constitution could be amended to provide for this.

In answer to a question, it was said that the association would be granted one representative on the hospital board. Further questions brought out the fact that the hospital board now consists of thirteen members, one each from the city council, North Cowichan council and one appointed by the Provincial Government. The King's Daughters' order elected the remaining ten members.

REVENUE VISIBLE

It was estimated that 500 members of the proposed Hospital Association could be signed up, and when it was proposed that $500 would do much to relieve the situation, the chairman said that there was nothing to prevent the members giving more than $1 if they thought fit, and he thought some might give $50. In reply to a question, it was said that about $650 was received last year in donations from the public. The per capita cost per patient to the hospital last year was $13. The Government contributed 70 cents per day for every patient. In lieu of 70 cents per day per patient for city cases, the Duncan council made a grant of $1,500 per year. The North Cowichan council granted the hospital $1,600 last year.

CARRYOVER OF SUGAR IS 2,000,000 TONS

BRUSSELS, Dec. 11 (AP).—The statistical subcommittee of the International Sugar Conference today published figures estimating that the European countries attending the meeting will have over 2,000,000 tons of sugar more than they can consume at the end of the present sugar year.

Germany's excess, rated at 812,000 tons, will be the largest; Czechoslovakia will have 671,000 tons excess; Poland, 426,000; Hungary, 100,000; Belgium, 74,000. One of the tasks of the present conference of sugar exporting countries is to devise some means of saving the industry from this overproduction.

NEW YORK BANK FAILS

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP).—Notices stating that the institution was in the hands of the State Banking Department were posted at the main office and several of the branches of the Bank of United States—one of the city's smaller and newer banking organizations—before the regular opening time this morning.

This action was taken after a flurry of withdrawals late yesterday and a series of conferences of leading bankers lasting well into the morning at the New York Federal Reserve Bank. The bank has no connection with the Government, despite its name, but because its name, bankers were anxious to take constructive action to prevent ill-advised nervousness.

BROKERS' LOANS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP).—Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks during the week ending December 10 were announced by the Federal Reserve Board today as $2,099,000,000, representing a decrease of $12,000,000 as compared with the preceding week, establishing a new low record for brokers' loans.

Toronto Stock Exchange Market

TORONTO, Dec. 11 (CP).—Outside influences, mainly a further drop in prices in Wall Street, contributed to the decline on the local market today, a decline which marks the fourth consecutive day of this week.

Volume was fairly heavy in the early stages, but dried up in the afternoon, and the aggregate, at under 16,000 shares, was about the same as that of Wednesday.

Brascan Traction closed approximately 1 point lower. Nickel at 17 was off 1-1/2 points; Noranda, C.P.R., Dominion Stores, Ford of Canada, Massey-Harris, Walkers, Service Stations lost less than a point. Massey-Harris closing above 12 last night, lost 3-4 of a point today and was only a small amount above its low. Ford received support when it dropped below 21.

Of the oils, British Columbia Oil did best, never getting below last night's close of 14 and leaving off with a net gain of 1-4 point. Imperial, International Petroleum, Superpet and McColl receded fractionally.

Atlantic Sugar came out stronger at 16 1-4, slumped to 14 1-4 on final sales, today's action being a repetition of that of yesterday.

Toronto Mining Exchange Market

TORONTO, Dec. 11 (CP).—Movement of the mining market today, though confined in scope, were almost all downward, softness in interlisted issues establishing the trend for the balance of the board.

Nickel dropped a quarter on the day; Noranda was down 10, and Base Metals lost 5 to 10. Hudson Bay firmed a few cents to $4.30, but Sheritt Gordon was under pressure and registered a loss of 4 at 72. Sudbury Basin was turned over at 50, off 5.

Dome and Hollinger held firm, but Lake Shore eased a quarter, McIntyre 20 and Teck Hughes 10. Mining Corporation sold off 10 at $1.40. Gem Lake lost a couple of yesterday's gain and Vipond was down a like amount to 8.

Chemical Research, off 17 to $3.10, and Cities Service, turned over at $17 for a fractional loss, showed the only changes in the oils.

TRADE WITH BRAZIL

VANCOUVER, Dec. 11.—Canadian exporters should have branch offices in Brazil to compete with those of other exporting nations and take better advantage of trade opportunities there, says A. S. Beakney, Canadian trade commissioner at Rio de Janeiro, who arrived in Vancouver today.

Canadian capital has contributed much to development in Brazil, Canadian banks hold the confidence of Brazilian business, and a Canadian financed company operates the lighting systems, street railways and motor buses. All this has created a good feeling towards Canadian products that exporters should take full advantage of, he says.

TACOMA TIGERS DOWN BUCKS IN HARD STRUGGLE

Lowe Nets Winning Counter in Second Period on Pass From Osmundson

ROBERTSON SHINES IN NET FOR WINNERS

PORTLAND, Dec. 11 (AP).—The homeless Tacoma Tigers improved their cellar position in the Pacific Coast Hockey League by defeating the Portland Buckaroos, 1 to 0, in a hard, fast game here tonight. The victory gained two points for the Tigers and put them four points behind the leaders, Portland and Vancouver, and two points behind Seattle, holder of third place.

A smooth passing offensive gained the lone tally. It was late in the second period. Osele Osmundson, big wing, carried the puck through the Buckaroo defense and crashed a wild shot at Andy Attkinhead Buck goalie. Andy saved it, but fell flat on his back to do it.

The rubber case dropped dead in front of the net and Ernie Lowe, wing, came in like a gust of wind and smacked it into the yawning mouth of the net. The time was 17:22.

ROBERTSON SHINES

With this advantage the Tigers tightened up a defense that had been wide open most of the season and with Earl Robertson doing some great saving held the margin.

The Tigers started out to win. Attkinhead was called upon to stop direct shots in the opening period. Robertson stopped ten in the same session. The Bucks shot twelve at Robertson in the next period and he stopped them all. Andy stopped eleven out of the twelve fired at him.

The Buckaroos, with four, and sometimes five players down, banged Robertson with thirteen direct shots in the final period, while the Tigers bombarded Andy with eight. This was the first home game of the season the Buckaroos have lost. They will play Seattle tomorrow night.

Rugby Rules and Interpretations

OFF-SIDE

A player is off-side:

(a) If he enters the scrum from his own side.

(b) If while the ball is in a scrum, he is not in front of the scrum, or he is in front of the scrum, but he is not in front of the ball.

(c) If when the ball is thrown in from touch he stands in front of a line at right angles to the touch line from the place whence the ball is thrown.

Penalty—Penalty kick awarded at the place of infringement.

(d) If, in his own in-goal, he is in front of one of his own side who is taking a free kick or penalty kick from behind the goal line, in which case all the kickers side must be behind the ball when kicked; otherwise a player cannot be off-side in his own in-goal.

Penalty—Scrummage five yards from the goal line opposite the place of infringement.

(e) If the ball has been kicked or touched, or is being carried, by one of his own side behind him.

No off-side player shall play the ball or actively or passively obstruct an opponent, or approach or wilfully remain within ten yards of an opponent waiting for the ball.

Penalty—Penalty kick awarded at the place of infringement, or scrummage where the ball was last played by the offending side, at the option of the other side.

No player shall shout "all on side," or words to that effect, when any member of his side is off-side.

Penalty—Penalty kick awarded at the place of infringement, or scrummage where the ball was last played by the offending side, at the option of the other side.

If the ball, or a player touching it, touch a player who is accidentally off-side, the referee shall order a scrummage.

We wish to draw attention to the clause relating to "wilfully remaining" within ten yards of an opponent waiting for the ball, for without doubt it is the cause of

Trumbull Says:

Tunney is in as good shape now as when he retired from ring.

American League baseball players will wear numbers next year.

Jack Johnson was one of the greatest boxers of the ring.

By WALTER TRUMBULL

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

In the early days of his career, when he was managed by Doc Bagley, Gene Tunney was matched to box Jack Burke. The latter was a tough fellow who had a great punch in his right hand, had done well at an amateur, and had knocked out a long string of opponents in professional fights.

Burke was supposed to be a light-heavyweight, and the men had an agreement to come in at 175 pounds. Tunney weighed 172 for the bout, but Burke scaled just a little under 185.

This accused Bagley to considerable indignation.

"We agreed to box a light-heavyweight," he said, "and you arrive with an elephant."

"I know," said Burke's manager, "but what could I do? He's growing."

It didn't make much difference, as Tunney stopped Burke in a couple of rounds. He met him again later and had more trouble with him. Although this time Burke came in at 175 pounds, he stuck around for seven or eight rounds.

Later, Burke—that was his nom de ring; his real name was several syllables long—was a sparring partner for Jack Dempsey.

Major Tunney was measured yesterday for the uniform he will wear as a member of the staff of Governor Cross of Connecticut. No Governor in the United States is going to boast a better-looking aide.

I cannot see that the former champion is not in as good physical shape as the day he retired from the ring. He hasn't grown much. He looks fit to climb back inside the ropes at a moment's notice. But he never will.

If you are interested, Tunney's chest measurement is 43 1/2 inches, his waist 37 inches, and his weight 192 1/2 pounds.

No wonder Tunney looks happy. Anyone who has youth, health, plenty of money, and a host of friends, hasn't much of which to complain.

All American League baseball players will wear numbers on their shirts next season. This is a big step in the right direction, as it will enable all the new pitchers, and some of the older ones, to know when Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig or Al Simmons comes to bat. Frequently, pitchers have not identified themselves until it was too late and, in consequence, many baseballs have been lost and the home club put to added expense.

It also will enable the Babe, by the use of a score card, to tell some of the players with whom he has been associated for several years. The Babe knows them all by sight, but he rarely remembers their names.

They really should change the numbers, from time to time, as there are only twenty-five men on a ball club in mid-season, and some Scotch fans might memorize the numbers and so decrease the sale of programs.

They say that Jack Johnson has been working with Tuffy Griffith, in preparation for the latter's bout with Young Stribling. Johnson was one of the great boxers of the ring, and I always have believed that he would make a good coach for any young fighter. The big negro knows the boxing game and can teach it. He has given me as many intelligent talks on fighting as any boxer I ever met. That doesn't mean that he can teach Griffith to beat Stribling. The Georgian has every physical attribute that goes to make a champion.

Both Army and Navy expect to win on Saturday. This game is likely to be hotly contested. The danger with the Army was that it would underestimate the opposition, but this danger no longer exists. The cadets realize that they will have to go at full speed.

The very fact that the Army is the opposing team has put the Navy in a state of mind for a whirlwind effort. The middies have been improving all season and are going into this game with the belief that they can win it.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAYS ARE GREAT SUCCESS

Large Audience Pays Tribute to Historic Efforts of Saanich Pupils

Round after round of applause greeted the first annual dramatic performance of the Saanich High School, held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last night.

Two plays were presented, and each reflected the greatest credit on performers and producers alike. "Nevertheless," a slight but delightful affair, featured Helen Coton, Gordon Martin and Dick Cummins.

The second play, "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil," was strongly reminiscent of Sir James Barry, and it would be hard to find a more suitable vehicle for such an evening's entertainment, as the vociferous delight of the audience abundantly testified.

The clever cast for this play was composed of Mavis Johnstone, Raymond Jones, Margaret Crawford, Phyllis Edwards, Dora Pink, Noel Morgan, Lillian Reid, and Alex Gunn.

Both plays were directed by Albert Bailey, and those responsible for the excellent music were Miss Evelyn Lucas, assisted by Miss Rhoda Walton, Robert Taylor, Miss Grace Brown, Miss Elsie Jones, Miss Mabel Ensey and Miss Lois Spooner.

CHAPTER XX

Rosie Blaylock uttered a little cry of amazement and sprang back, every vestige of color forsaking her cheeks.

"Mr. Hartford," she whispered, "oh, Mr. Hartford, how did you find me? Tom . . . Tom . . . he said . . . he don't know . . . nor dad."

"Let me come in and talk to you, Rosie," said Fexton, quietly. "There is a great deal to tell you. I shall not ask any questions. I have come to ask you to go home."

She allowed him to enter, and opened the door of a small front room. A room so faded by furniture and ornaments that it was difficult to move. Nor did she attempt to seat herself. Poor child! How her bonny head drooped; she was trembling violently, tears rolled down her cheeks.

"I'm never going home," she whispered. "It's no use to ask me. But, oh, Mr. Hartford, who learned you I was here? And . . . and how's mother? You'll tell me that? And dad . . . and Tom. You won't let them know where I am?"

A lump seemed to rise in Fexton's throat.

"Poor little girl," he said, "poor little girl. But you mustn't cry, Rosie. I know the story of what has happened. When your parents know it too, they will be welcoming you home. And not only that, Rosie. Why, there's Tom, that splendid fellow Tom, searching London for you, breaking his heart for you, planning to buy a special licence and take you home with the right of a husband to defend his wife's name. Cheer up, little girl. The black clouds are breaking and letting the sunshine through."

She could not believe him. "Tom in London?" she echoed, "oh, no. He couldn't be in London. Or, if he is, it's only . . . only because he wants to shoot me—and . . . that man, too, I'm afraid . . . afraid. There's so often bits like it in the papers about jealous lovers shooting the girls who deceive them. I'm afraid."

How he pitied her. Poor little nerve-wrecked Rosie, who saw everyone in tragic colors because of one villain who had deceived her. Fexton was very gentle in his persuasions and gradually the look of strained terror faded from the blue eyes and the tears which ran down the pale cheeks were tears of healing.

"What helps me to believe it, sir," she faltered, "is that you are so kind. And after my wickedness towards you, I hardly dare ask, sir, if you can forgive my bad, cruel behavior."

Her cheeks burned as she thought of her treacherous acting. Oh, she must have been mad—quite mad—but it was Ivor—her grand, darling lover who had insisted that she be as was in his hands. Yet, his blatant vaunting of his own fine career, his flash looks and romantic name had completely dazzled her. It spoke volumes for the child's innate purity of soul that she had felt in horror when she learned he had only shame to offer her.

Now, she could hardly believe her own infatuation.

Fexton was generous.

"I forgive you freely," he said. "It is the man who must live all the blame. For the time he has escaped, but not for always. We can leave him to a later judgment. Now, it must be as you wish, but I propose to leave you here while I find Tom and bring him to you. You understand that under the circumstances I should be the last person to take you home."

She blushed faintly.

"I do indeed understand, sir," she replied, in a whisper. "And . . . I couldn't go home. I . . . couldn't."

"But you will let me bring Tom to you?" he asked, insistently. "You would not keep that poor fellow in suspense any longer?"

Rosie wrung her hands.

"You're sure he'll forgive me?" she asked. "I put it to you, sir, how could he ever trust me again?"

"I think I can promise you Tom Burr's love and trust, Rosie," replied Fexton. "You must have faith in both, little girl. It is the least you can do. Tomorrow, or the next day I shall bring him. I do not know where he is lodging, but I do know a place to which he goes. You may be quite sure he will come at once."

"I'm afraid," she repeated, "afraid. But even if he kills me it's better than being in this torture. The lady who took me in is out now, sir. She's the kindest body. She was nurse to . . . to the one whose name I never cease to bless. She takes care of me and I help with her dressmaking."

"She must be a good woman," replied Fexton—and tried not to cheapen his admiration of Rosie's friend-in-need by looking at the girl's work-worn hands. It was time for him to be going now too, and his good-bye to the still trembling girl was very kindly.

"The clouds are breaking all the time, little Rosie," he urged. "Don't forget it, and—in . . . in gratitude to a lover's devotion don't let your Tom see that it is possible you could doubt it."

"I'll try, sir," repeated Rosie, "indeed, I will try. But I'm all in a maze. I'd settled with myself that I'd never see any of the home faces again. I . . . was afraid they'd all be cursing me. I've hardly dared speak of dad. He'd never find a word of welcome for the daughter who has disgraced him."

"It's all a mistake, Rosie," repeated Fexton, "but you'll have to hear it from their lips, child. It is no use for me to speak. Tomorrow, or the next day Tom will convince you in five minutes about what I can never persuade you."

She let him go, thanking him humbly. He settled with himself that last words and standing to watch him from the doorway. Fexton knew instinctively that she would be already regretting the permission she had given, and it made him take a sudden determination. About this time the secret visitors to the work, which, during these past weeks, has got into hopeless arrears. If these dry husks are to be all I have to offer Delcourt at the end of a year, I shall be properly ashamed—but at least I have already learned one thing by experience. In future I shall neither envy dukes their opportunities—or despise their failures.

He was smiling ironically to himself as he swung himself up into a passing bus. It would be a long journey across London and it was not until late in the evening that he reached his room. There, at the corner was the public house which carried on its secret trade so unsuspectingly. A harborage of malcontents and agitators. Yet, though black birds flocked there regularly, Fexton was well aware that the landlord was a harmless, easily-persuaded fellow, who did not forget a kindness or an old friend, and who was probably ignorant of the ugly customers who patronized his house, or at least did not listen to their fiery speeches. Drawing back into a doorway some distance off, Fexton watched the doors of the dingy pub with keenest interest. He would be safer and wiser to remain here as long as he could, and, if he saw Tom Burr enter, he would wait till he came out again—unless the chance to speak to him came first.

It was not pleasant waiting out here in the cold and rain, and Fexton turned up his coat collar as he leaned back as far as he could under the eaves. Men were passing to and fro along the muddy pavement, both near and opposite. Women with shawls over their heads shuffled along with jugs filled with stout and beer. Occasionally wrangling voices were heard, children screamed, men cursed. These were the ordinary denizens of the streets. But there were more besides. Fexton noticed the men who sauntered quietly by, halted, and then entered quickly by the side door of the public house.

"You must have faith in both, little girl. It is the least you can do. Tomorrow, or the next day I shall bring him. I do not know where he is lodging, but I do know a place to which he goes. You may be quite sure he will come at once."

They were middle-aged, grimy men; one was patently a forger, the other a delinquent Englishman. A lamp smoked dimly on the table, there were two chairs, a pack of cards, glasses, and an empty bottle of gin. Evidently the men had been on the point of going out when they had spied Fexton and had returned to relight the lamp. They thrust their prisoner down on to a trundle bed in the corner and then drew apart, muttering to gether. Fexton did not hear what they said, but, as he sat, panting, the blood trickling from a wound on his cheek. He was down and out for the moment, and had scarcely collected his wits to face the situation. Presently, one of the men came up to him.

"You'd better speak up straight, mister," he said, with an oath. "We were out marking down our pal Tom Burr for 'is no use denyin' nothing. We see you plain. If you don't speak up, it's going to make things a whole lot worse for you!"
